We stumbled upon "Up, Up & Away" while walking in the woods. Although we had not really considered its meaning, we knew it would be a great theme because it lent itself to so many other ideas. Each day in life we are moving up, towards something new. We must crawl before we walk, we must gurgle before we talk, and we must be given wings before we can fly. In high school, we work through five years of studies in order to graduate and advance in life. This is the up, up & away that we have captured in this book. We give you this "invitation" to browse through our book . . .

If you are a dreamer, come in,
If you are a dreamer, a wisher, a liar,
A hope-er, a pray-er, a magic bean buyer . . .
If you're a pretender, come sit by my fire
For we have some flax-golden tales to spin
Come in!
Come in!

Face-ing the Clouds

People

Have you ever looked up into the sky and made pictures out of the clouds? Think of the sky as our school and the individuals as clouds. The clouds make the sky interesting because of their unique shapes and the people here give our school its identity. When you walk through the halls, take a minute to look at these "clouds", people who are your friends, classmates, and teachers. Notice how many different backgrounds they come from. It's the same with people and clouds, if they were all alike, life would be monotonous.

Faculty

The "Higher Ground" upon which teachers stand is composed of their education and knowledge. These teachers lend us a hand in hopes of pulling us up to their higher ground. With warmth and caring they offer all of the help which we will accept. Each year from ground level to the outer limits, we move closer to standing on an intellectual level with these people.

Also included in our faculty is the janitorial staff. These people keep OHS clean and safe so that we can collect our knowledge in a bright and happy atmosphere.

Relatively Knowledgable

"It's a very delicate situation . . ." That is how Mr. Denson feels about having his two sons, Greg and Brian, at OHS. We discovered that it truly is a delicate situation. Many teachers had difficulty answering the questions we asked regarding their student relatives.

Being in the same school could be an opportunity for these adults to keep an eye on their kin, but most denied doing so. Mr. Dexter is one faculty member who admitted to keeping track of his daughter, Amy's, schoolwork. Mrs. Kudron (mother of Scot and Jason and aunt of Chad and Kelli Roderick) and Mrs. Ledoux (mother of Cheryl) agreed that because the kids do well in school, they do not feel that it's necessary. Mrs. Ledoux added that having her daughter in the same school was a pleasure. A convenience for Mr. Denson is that he is easily able to watch his sons practice in extra-curricular activities.

Both Mr. Bacon (grandfather of Heather Hardy) and Mrs. Briody (aunt of Kristin and Adam Perry) try not to give any special attention to their student relations. Mr. Bacon does not discuss Heather's school life with her. Mrs. Briody summed it up with one statement about her niece Kristin, "She's herself, I'm myself — everything's fine."

Speaking of dedication . . . she's a mother, teacher, yearbook adviser, friend, sister, aunt and just someone wonderful. She is thoroughly devoted both to her home and school lives and seems to have found the perfect balance between them. Her sense of humor and wit keep her classes guessing and attentive. She is unpredictable, unbiased and "undertall" (in her opinion). Even if she has a yearbook deadline, National Honor Society certificates which need calligraphy and a sick dog at home, somehow she manages to stay calm and collect. She does not let her talents go to her head, her thorough modesty keeps her in check.

A yearbook dedication is not chosen at random. We, Amy Morang and Laura Patenaude (co-editors) decided upon Mrs. Susan Briody as this year's recipient because she is an inspiration to us. Keeping this a secret may have been the most difficult part of the creation of this yearbook, but it was worth it. We felt that she deserved this honor. Thank you, Mrs. Briody, for all of your help.

Seniors

When we were in the eighth grade, the high school seemed so big. Now that we have wandered these halls for five years everything is familiar and the once intimidating maze of corridors seems so small. This is the final chapter in the story of our high school career. We will begin a sequel to this story after graduation when we decide upon our futures, but we will never be able to forget our experiences at OHS. Senior year brings new definition to the word stress. There are deadlines and assignments everywhere we look. Filling out college applications, going to work, and keeping up with schoolwork are only a few examples of how we spend our time. It all goes by so fast. Before we know it we will be seated together at graduation, a formation of maroon and white that symbolizes all of us together, the Class of '94.

Remember Me . . .

Since the eighth grade we have looked forward to graduation and leaving OHS behind. However, with the end of High School so near, we begin to look back on years passed. Many of us realize that the simple things are quite important. Proms, semi-formals, favorite teachers and classmates will soon be put behind us as we move into the next phase of life, a new world with new people.

Through the years we, as individuals, have come together as one. Although we go our seperate ways we will always be the Class of 1994.

In the following pages we hope to have captured the things that mean the most to all of us.

Advisors Three

Most classes who walk through the front doors of OHS hope for at least one good advisor. The class of 1994 has been given three. In the eighth grade we met up with the spirited spunk of Mrs. Lawrence. She lead us through our first two difficult years of high school.

Class officers Josh Brotherton and Lindsay Greene describe our next advisor, — "At the beginning of our sophomore year, we got our second advisor. Mrs. Hetherman, a special education teacher, came to us with a lot of fresh ideas. Although nervous at first, her enthusiasm guided us, the Class of '94. Mrs. Hetherman became more than just an advisor to us. She became a friend, a second-mother, a supporting column (Jr. Prom). She always was willing to help, putting in extra hours after school and on weekends. We will all miss her. Years from now we will think back on our fond memories here at OHS. She stuck by us through the good and the bad. WE LOVE YOU MRS. HETHERMAN!"

Finally, we were given much advice and guidance by Mr. Bacon who was temporarily appointed as our advisor. He supported us through the beginning of our Senior year and our fourth win at homecoming.

We would like to say "Thank You!" for instilling in us a great sense of class pride. We'll miss you and we will never forget all that you have done for us.

Ninety "Four" In a Row!

HOMECOMING RALLY '89: We attempt our first rally with our version of "Heard It Through the Grapevine". We placed third in the competition.

HOMECOMING RALLY '90: Our rally cheer was based on the songs "Get Up" & "Shout". We improved enough in that one short year to tie for first place.

HOMECOMING RALLY '91: We payed tribute to the late Dr. Seuss with our mascot, The Cat in the Hat. Our cheer was composed of "Everyday" and "Buffalo Stance". We were again rewarded with first place.

HOMECOMING RALLY '92: This year we used the overall theme of "The Junior Family". We combined the old and new Addams Family songs for our cheer. We came out on top. Number one again!

HOMECOMING RALLY '93: Will we ever forget? There was alot of anticipation — we were determined to win our last Rally. And we did! Our mascots were Dorothy (J. Julian), the Scarecrow (A. Kulma), the Tin Man (M. Gagnon), the Cowardly Lion (J. Brotherton), Glinda (H. Tessier), the Wicked Witch of the West (L. Greene), and the Munchkins (N. Hill, S. Hurley, E. LeBlanc, C. Simao, & J. Stone). We sung a medley of songs from The Wizard of Oz (Pirates of Ox). Four in a row!!!

We would like to thank Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Hetherman, Mr. Bacon and Mr. & Mrs. Fields (for allowing the hostile takeover of their homestead, '92 & '93).

An Evening of Elegance

April 3, 1993 . . . The Junior Prom was a magical night, with the theme — An Evening of Elegance. As you entered the cafeteria, you crossed a bridge into a world of columns and flowers. The purple accents emphasized the simple beauty of the black and white decor. A variety of hors d'oeuvres were served banquet style.

D.J.'s from Conte Sound kept the energy high with an incredible mix of music. Leis, blown up instruments, and sunglasses were passed out so that everyone would be psyched for a conga line. The conga line clumsily travelled in and out of the cafeteria and was showered with bubbles. Keeping with the fun, everyone made a circle and enjoyed the hokey-pokey. Finally, romance filled the air as couples danced to the song of the evening, "Faithfully" by Journey.

The King, Queen and court were chosen by the D.J.'s. Bruce Silberstein and Lindsay Greene were crowned King and Queen. Their court included couples, Samantha Gervickas and Bryan Phillips, Kirsten Shattuck and T.J. Gaylord, Denise Wray and Pat Flynn, Johanna Fontaine and Paul Cadieux.

Touching the Stars

Juniors

We, the class of 1995, have finally grown from insecure eighth-graders into proud young adults. We have walked through the halls of OHS hundreds of times before, but the strolls through the hallways this year seem to be different. As Juniors, we are confident in who we are, and proud of our class. We never tire; we are always striving towards the top. We feel a strong bond with each other, one that has grown stronger each year. We know that these days will be remembered as some of the best in our lives, and knowing this, we enjoy and savor every moment.

In the Still of the Nite

On March 6, 1993, Oxford High School students danced the night away at the Sophomore semi-formal. Candle-lit tables adorned the cafeteria, and the theme colors black, royal blue, and silver shimmered everywhere. Underneath a glowing moon and next to a beautiful city sky line, couples swayed to "In The Still of The Nite," the 1993 theme song. The starlit evening turned out to be a successful one, and everyone left with wonderful memories to last forever.

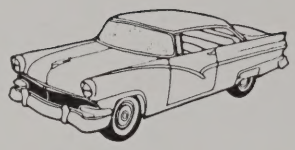
Road To Freedom...



As Juniors, many students receive their driver's licenses. A driver's license is not only a piece of plastic saying one can drive legally, but it's a ticket to freedom. Many students look upon their licenses as the highlight of being a teenager. What better feeling than being in control of everything you do? A license also brings on independence and responsibility. At a time in our lives when we feel restricted by school, parents, and commitments, a driver's license definitely leads us to the road to freedom.

Sophomore

Sophomores . . . We were caught in the mix, just realizing the confusion that we have entered. No more time for goofing off. Time to get serious and work hard. Finally entering the reality and understanding what is expected of us. Still, we had a great year. We finished third at Homecoming, held an awesome semi-formal, and ordered our class rings. Finally upperclassmen, and on step-up day . . . Juniors, caught in the confusion and being swept away.

This past year we have made many new friendships that will last a lifetime and for every friend that we've stopped talking to, we've made two more to take their place. Understanding one another, communicating with each other, and finally opening up to have others help with our problems.

Hard to Believe

For some of us, this nostalgic feeling comes when we're on the way to history class and you see your eighth grade locker. For others, you might have been walking down the Freshman hallway, trying to kill time before your next class (ya right), and there is that familiar green locker. Looking around these halls, wondering where the past three years have gone.

Hard to believe we were ever the "little eighth graders," but not too long from now, we will be walking down those corridors for the last time.

Now your old locker belongs to someone else and it's time to move on. But, we will never forget our high school years. Hard to believe how fast time goes by.

Changes...

Have you ever had that feeling, all of a sudden and out of the blue, you think to yourself, "whatever happened to so and so?" You were best friends all through grade school. As you pass that person in the hall, you make eye contact, smile at each other, and never say hello. Well in high school, people grow apart, but years later, you still remember your first steady boyfriend, first kiss, and your first DATE.

Remember

Well, well, well . . . Sophomores already. Only two years left until graduation. You might feel that two years is a lifetime but it will be gone in the blink of an eye.

Remember Homecoming . . . singing a song that was a cross between the Monkeys' theme song and in the jungle. Third place is pretty good.

How about the semiformal, the lights, the music, the decorations, getting all gussied up, the limos, and cleaning up.

Pretty soon we will be saying . . . "Remember our high school graduation?"

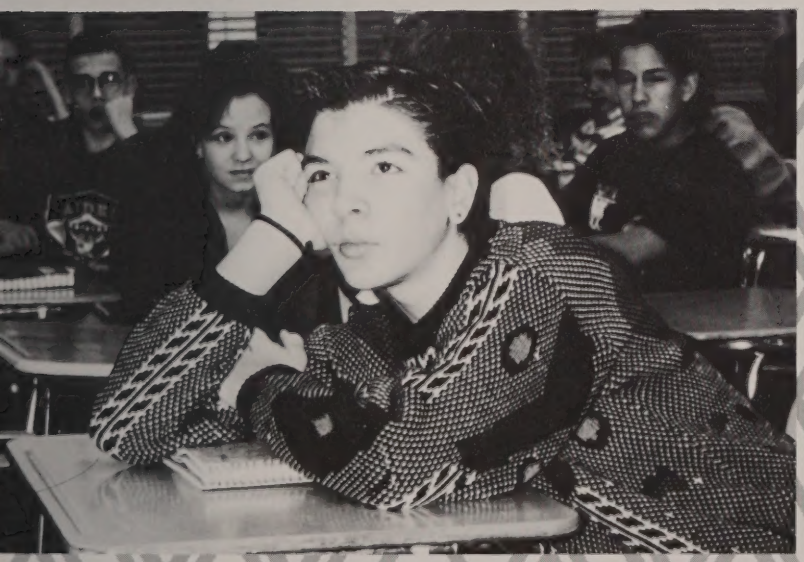
Freshmen



In every class there are differences between people. They usually go from one extreme to another. Even though we're different, we all go to school together, it gives us a lot of experience and a lot to look forward to. Being Freshmen means that we are now officially apart of the high school. Even though we're not the youngest anymore, we still have a long way to go. There's still a lot more to get involved in and a lot more trouble to get into. We only have three more years to learn what we need to know. When we are seniors we'll finally get the respect we deserve, but for now, we'll take what we can get.

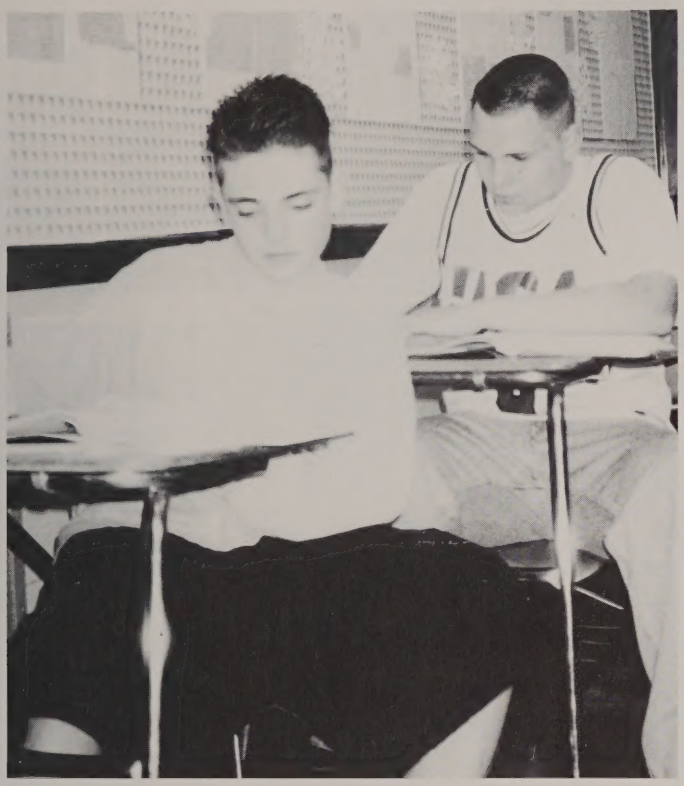
Time For Fun!



It may be hard, but try not to let these seemingly concentrated scholars fool you. They seem to be hard at work, mastering new skills and courses. Even with all their work, there's still plenty of time for fun. If you don't believe it, just look at all of the trouble we get into. It seems to come so naturally. If you think we're bad now, just wait until the Class of 1997 becomes seniors!

Eighth Grade

This was our first year at OHS, and we will always remember how nervous we were when we entered. We went from being the oldest in the middle school, and all of the sudden we were the youngest again. We have four years to go at OHS and we sincerely hope that everyone is successful in the years to come. The one thing that you will take with you into the ninth grade are the special memories of the eighth grade.

Some of the special memories are: when we attend our first homecoming, our first student government day, and this year we also got to vote for a president, vice president, and other class officers. Another memory was our first semi formal. All of these events made our first year here very memorable. We are sure that there are a lot of memories to come at O.H.S.!!!!!!!

Go With It!

Eighth grade. New people in a new place. In the middle school we were the biggest and the best. Now we are the smallest. We're scared that we are going to walk into the wrong class. Even if you do, no big deal. Hey it happens. In the middle school we studied for a test for about twenty minutes. Here we have to study for an hour, hour and a half. I guess what I am trying to say is just go with it.

Perk It Up

One student's experience in Project COFFEE...

This year we will give you a more personal look at Project COFFEE. Megan Early shared her COFFEE experience with us —

"Project COFFEE is the alternative education program for this region's high schools. I was enrolled in January of 1992 by Mrs. James and my mother. This program is designed for students who have a high risk of dropping out. Since then my school experience has improved very much.

The Auburn program had academics and occupation courses. Since I have been taking art courses on my own at the Worcester Art Museum every summer since middle school, the art program at Auburn COFFEE was my favorite. My art teacher was Bill Reese, who is a working accomplished artist with his own studio. Because of his teaching and personal guidance I learned so much. My work and attitude have improved enough so that I have actually sold some of my drawings.

There have been a lot of changes between last year's program and this year's, some good and some bad. Auburn is separated from the Oxford COFFEE. Mr. Gilrein, our former director, has moved on to Shephard Hill. Mr. Wells has moved to Bay Path, and Mrs. Eldridge has moved to Chaffee School. We've been joined by Mr. Sikonski, Mrs. Spinney and Mr. Malkasian.

My thanks go to Mrs. James, Mr. Bill Reese, Dr. Joe Phalen and Coomby. They gave me the encouragement and the skills to succeed in high school and after."

Up-Lifting SPIRITS

When we entered room 125, we were greeted by a bunch of students working hard on Valentines. They are the members of Project COPE (community occupational placement experience), a group of special needs students, ages fourteen to twenty-two. These students are learning how to function as members of the community and work-force. Challenged by intellectual limitations, yet still searching for their niches in life, these people truly are "uplifting spirits."

Learning to Fly

Academics

Math, science, English . . . these are some of the basics of academics at OHS. We spend seven periods a day, five days a week in classes. At times it seems that life is an endless swamp of tests, quizzes, and homework but we always manage to wade through. Flying through an exam and getting an "A" proves that we are really learning. The teachers give us the "wings" to soar in our classes. So instead of complaining, realize that the knowledge you obtain here will help you through your entire school career.

Rising Stars

The students on these pages have been honored because of their unique abilities. The Harvard Book Award, Bausch and Lomb Science Award, and Xerox Award are presented to students in their junior year at OHS. Representatives for Girls and Boys State are selected by the local American Legion Post and the Auxiliary. These students spend a week at an area college or university to learn about government on the state and city/town level. During senior year, students have the opportunity to run for Good Government Day Representative (G.G.D.R.) and Daughters of the American Revolution representative (D.A.R.). The entire student body votes on the G.G.D.R. and the senior class alone votes on the D.A.R. representative. This year, two students excelled on their NMSQT/PSAT and received a Letter of Commendation. These students worked diligently to achieve these awards and deserve to be commended for them.

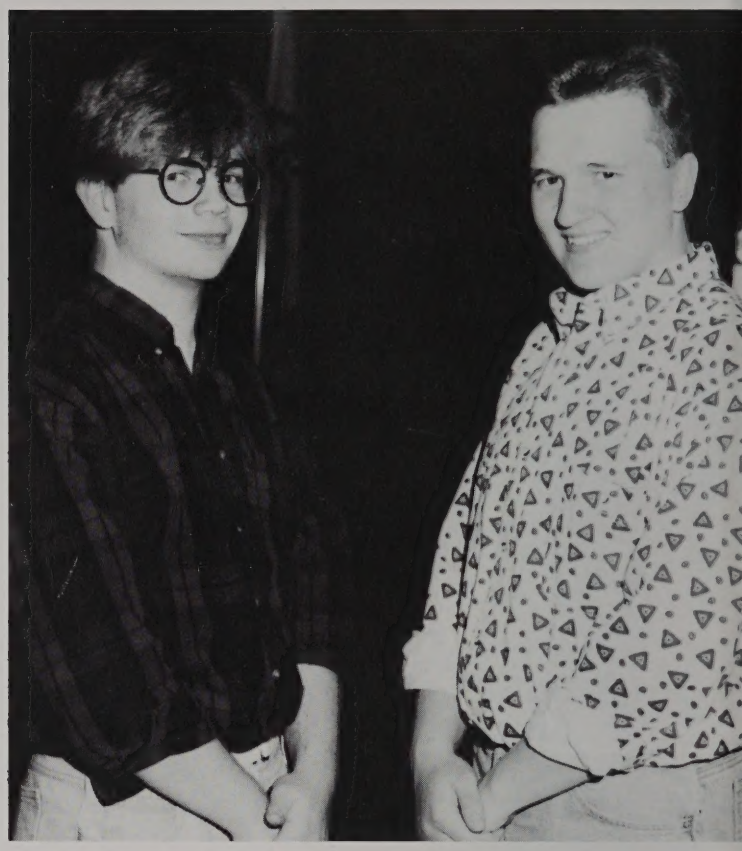
Matt Roy and Mark Wojcicki were 1993 representatives to Massachusetts Boys State.



Melissa Hill (also recipient of the Xerox Award) and Laura Patenaude were 1993 representatives to Massachusetts Girls State.

Matt Roy (alternate) and Nicole Hill — Good Government Day Representatives.

Josh Brotherton — Daughters of the American Revolution Representative.

Nicole Hill (state) and Lindsay Greene (regional) — Student Advisory Council Lindsay also received the Bausch and Lomb Science Award.

Matt Roy (also recipient of the Harvard Book Award) and Laura Patenaude — recipients of National Merit Scholarship Letters of Commendation.

Adding Up!

Throughout our school years, we learn how to add, subtract, multiply, and divide. That was okay, but now that we are in high school, we have to worry about theorems, postulates, slopes, ratios, and what x stands for. Sometimes it's easy and sometimes it's difficult.

I mean, if you can't add how are you supposed to count your money after a hard day's work? And how much to spend on one thing? And how much to save for another? And most importantly how are you supposed to shop?

In class concentration is a must. Computing all of those numbers into your brain takes work. Paying attention may sometimes be hard, but it all pays ($) off in the end.

— Megan Mancini

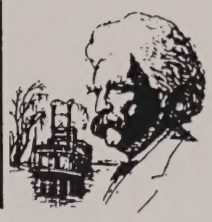
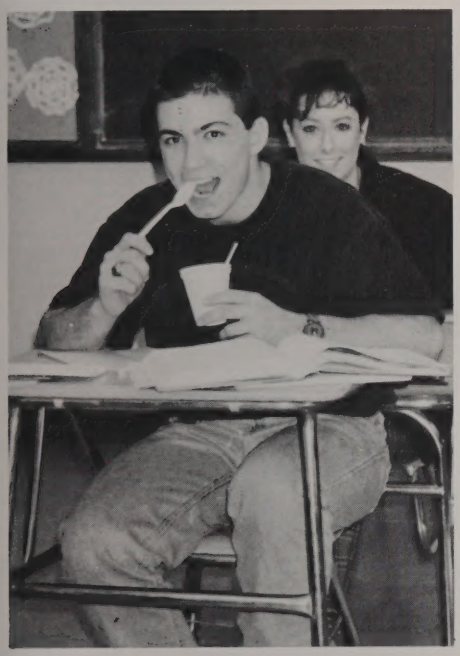
Look it Up !!!





English! Students here at OHS have to endure five years of it. If you want to study grammar, go to Mrs. Pietro's room. If you have a big term paper coming up, then it is Mr. Constanzo that you want. If you want to know about the eight parts of speech, then head for Ms. Chamberlain's room. Even with all of these great teachers and all five long years you still can not totally understand this terribly complex language. So, if you come across a strange word, look it up because if we don't understand our own language, who will?

— Rebecca Woods

Hot Air Rises...

Hot air rises? This should be a simple concept, right? Well, maybe when you're a senior and have already taken four years of science, it is. Science is tough and it can be boring and after a while you begin to nod off, WAKE UP! Science really isn't all that bad. Forget the hours of homework and struggles in the lab . . . Science really can be fun. In what other class can you play with fruit flies but Mr. Matte's biology class? Let's not forget Mrs. Kudron's pigs? And Miss Collins' demos? And Mrs. Olney and Mrs. Appis' experiments? Physics, biology or chemistry, the choices of a scientific endeavor are endless! So, when you start to feel yourself ready to doze, WAKE UP! Don't you want to know why hot air really rises?

Fly Through the Years...

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to travel back in time? What was life like in 1776? Well, just ask Mr. Boucher or Mrs. Geenty and they will explain all about early American life. Do you want to know about Greece in 16 A.D.? No problem. Ask Mr. Lamacchia and he will explain the mysteries of ancient civilizations. More interested in Europe during World War I? Mr. Hazelwood will share his vast knowledge of this period in history. These teachers take you on a journey through time in their classrooms. They can bring history to life. Coach D's psychology class will take you out of the past and into the mysteries of the mind. So, don't just sit there, start exploring social studies.

— Darcy Escolas and Rebecca Woods

Speak Up!!

Comment ca va? Como esta Ud.? Now what in the world do those words mean? Well, if you don't know what one of these questions means, it's time to take a foreign language. Here at OHS French and Spanish are taught in levels I-V. Mrs. Blazis tests your acting, musical ability, and culinary skills. Mr. Pietro with his adventurous novels takes you on a journey into Spanish culture. If English is the only language for you, Mrs. Casavant makes it more understandable with her Latin courses. For the most exciting adventure you can go to Paris and Madrid with Mrs. Blazis. So, take a foreign language course and speak up!

— Darcy Escolas

Hitting the High Notes

There are many different courses to consider in Oxford High School. Some may be better than others, but for some of us, music may be the best choice.

Music Theory is for those who are exceptionally good at writing songs. Who knows? Maybe one of these students will be the next Ludwig Von Beethoven. Band and Chorus are for those who are exceptionally talented at hitting the high notes both ways.

The eighth graders get to experience something new in their first year in high school. This is called Music Lab and the eighth graders get to use keyboards and synthesizers to start on their music career a little early, that is, if they choose it to be.

— Lori Brennan

Paint it Up!

Art at OHS is offered in two basic forms. Mr. Stickney teaches graphic arts students who create with computes and printing presses. Mrs. Briody instructs students in a multitude of creative more traditional media from watercolors to pastels.

In the art room students can always be found rubber-cementing, coloring, or cutting mattes to frame their projects. There are always creative juices flowing and students with inspirational still-lifes in order to teach them basic drawing skills. Students can eventually work toward oil paintings, wax sculptures or silk screens.

Graphic arts students help keep the school running steadily with their production of sports programs and schedules, National Honor Society programs and tickets used for dances and various other events and printing services for all of the town governmental offices, police, and fire departments.

Flying Sawdust

Mr. Ducharme is really stirring things up now with all of the new 8th graders and all of the upperclassmen (who already know what they are doing).

I hope you new 8th graders liked your first year with Industrial Arts. When I had it for the first time I loved it.

He teaches everyone how to use the tools in the tool cabinet, and the machines on the floor that are really saws. He teaches you about anything else you can think of. He also teaches everyone to depend on everyone in the class for help.

Everyone probably thinks Industrial Arts is for the guys. But it is not. It's for everyone. If you're not taking this course, you are missing out on something spectacular.

Jump Up

Jump up to the hoop in the OHS gym. There are different courses in store for you as you work your way up the ladder of physical education. In eighth and ninth grade you have to go through Miss Gaydosh, Miss West, and Miss Erickson's phys. ed. classes. They teach recreational and exercise skills that are incorporated with many different sports. As sophomores we participate in Project Adventure. This course teaches us about trust, teamwork, and building self-confidence. We also learn CPR. Freshmen and juniors take Mrs. Lawrence's health classes. These classes are educational and fun. So, jump up to the excitement of OHS gym classes!

Walking on Sunshine

Activities

Activities are a big part of our lives as OHS students. National Honor Society, Homecoming, and yearbook are just a few that we take part in. Without the office, ISS & library aides, this school could not run as smoothly as it does now. Some of these activities are a lot of work, but in the end, it's worth all the effort. After a long day at school, all we want to do is have fun. Taking part in some of these activities is like walking on sunshine. We got through the darkness, now we face the sun! Keep on going!

Air in the Balloon

This past year The Peer Advocates have grown into a well recognized group. They have also grown from a mere 13 students to a group with more than 40 members. With the help and guidance of Mrs. Lawrence, the Peer Advocates have put together a tutoring program in which they offer assistance to their classmates in need of extra help.

Also helping out at OHS are the Office, Guidance, ISS, and the Library Aides. These students lend a hand by delivering notes to students, helping Mr. Lee and Mrs. Stone in the library and guidance office, and delivering lunches to students is ISS.

These students give up their free time to help others and make everyone's day a little easier.

— Katie Prunier

Best We Can Be In ...

Best We Can Be In . . . '93

Picture this: Lots of school spirit, people working together and enjoying school, anticipation, and dedicated athletes. Does this sound like the last episode of the Brady Bunch? Actually, it sounds more like OHS Homecoming.

It's pretty hard not to get lots of school spirit from the class competitions and cheerleaders during the pep rally. It gives people a chance to work together and earn money for our classes. There's nothing like the overwhelming anticipation of the "Big Games." All this is great but nothing would be possible without our class advisors who help us prepare for the competitions. They helped us to become "The Best We Could Be in '93."

The OHS Computer Club really knows how to punch it up since they are user friendly! Under the direction of Mrs. Threadgould, our advisor, and our officers: Josh Brotherton — Pres., Jules Hagelauer — V.P., Jason Longwell — Sec., and Jim Vigeant — Tres., the Computer Club has become the pride and joy of Oxford High.

This year, the Computer Club went to the Boston Museum of Science for their trip. We didn't have much trouble with expenses with our popular candy cane sales and our Mystery Match-Up. — Lori Brennan

AND NOWHERE TO GO BUT THE SENIOR BREAKFAST!!!

Each year, in the spirit of Halloween, costumed Seniors eat a hearty breakfast that is prepared by the faculty. Entertainment is added by the underclassmen who create a skit to poke fun at the Seniors (in pure fun, of course). Although sometimes it borders on risque, the skit is mostly appreciated.

Anyone who has ever said that the class of 1994 is unique should have been at the Senior Breakfast. The costumes ranged from potted plants to Little Bo Peep and a few lost sheep. The originality that always dominates our class showed in each person's outfit.

We extend a "Thank You" to anyone who helped with cooking or anything else that made our day out of the ordinary. Happy future Halloweens to OHS!

This year the 2nd annual Ghost Walk took place on October 23. The theme was Haunted symphony in the woods. The skits consisted of devils disciples, Merlin the Magician, phantom of the Opera, witches, vampires, fairies, Rip Van Winkle which were led around by tour guides. This was sponsored by the Oxford Playground Committee and put on by the Oxford students. It was a great success, everyone had fun which produced fond memories. We wish the best of luck in next years Ghost Walk. Good luck,

PILOTING THE PLANE

The OHS Student Council representatives are elected by the students at the end of the year for the year ahead. The council's main purpose is to represent the student body. The Student Council has many activities that benefit the community as well as others, such as the annual Senior Citizen's Dinner, Blood Drive, and the canned food drive. The Council takes on many responsibilities in hopes to make the school year a success. It tries to represent the students of this school in the best way possible, so that the pride in the community, teachers, and students can be kept alive.

Rise To the Top...

The National Honor Society is a group of people who have integrity. This means being good even when no one is looking. Considering the amount of respect that accompanies this society, the members are given a great deal of responsibility. True members do not use their membership merely to embellish college applications, they enjoy the service to the community and the academic challenge.

In May of 1993, members participated in a twenty-mile walk to benefit the homeless. This year, Lindsay Greene and Nicole Hill organized NHS participation in the AIDS Dance-A-Thon. Both events were held in Boston.

Strike Up the Band

Grateful that marching season is over again, the Band has gotten through another season of bumps and bruises and is now going into concert season. Our Christmas Concert went well and now we are starting on our spring Concert.

The Chorus is doing well also. Their annual trip to Faneuil Hall went very well. Now they join with us on working on our Spring Concert and to get rid of their bumps and bruises like the Band.

This year the trip will be ??? Who knows? The Band is glad to have our leader, Mr. Madge, back with us again and with the officers: Jon Briggs — Pres., Jules Hagelauer — V.P., and Kristen Stake — Sec./Lib., we should have a good year. So strike up the band and see what you get. This story was "composed" by Lori Brennan.

You probably did not hear yelps of torture coming from the art room this year at deadline time. Things pretty much ran smoothly. Without an advisor for our first few deadlines, we will admit to some angry grumbling. However, with the unique guidance of incredible editors, things got done. For the first time in yearbook history when things were late, we did not panic, we Federal-Expressed (that is how the copy for two deadlines got to the plant on time).

The yearbook staff is a group of diverse people with diverse ideas, expected to produce a book that shows unity. Go figure! We all follow the same theme however sometimes we have different interpretations of it. We are not supposed to expound on ourselves (you already know how wonderful we are!), because we should be modest about tons of back-breaking work that we put into the creation of this book. Just remember — we assembled these memories for your enjoyment, if we had not done it, nobody else would have.

Chasing After Comets

Sports

Here at OHS sports are not only an extracurricular activity, but also a competitive, grueling workout. Even if the teams do not make it to the state championships, we are still a skilled group who has their share of achievements. Personal and school records are set and broken almost every season. The Lady Pirates and Pirates live up to their names . . . they intimidate the opposition. Even during a loss, the overall feeling of spirit and pride dominates each player.

(above) Brian Willar and Brian Denson seem to be annoyed with the ref's call.

Break Through the Line...

The 1993 Varsity Football season was frustrating. The end result was a 3-7 record. The Varsity captains were Paul Sliwoski, Dennis Kuhn, and Jeff Dunn. Although our record did not show it, our team did show some signs of improvement (especially attitudes toward the end of the season). With the amount of underclassmen who started this year, a great foundation was built for next year's team (Cardillo, Dussault, M. Barber, & Lapierre). The departing seniors can only hope that the outstanding attitude displayed at the end of the season will remain throughout next season. If anything was learned from this experience, mistakes will be corrected and next year's team will have an excellent season.

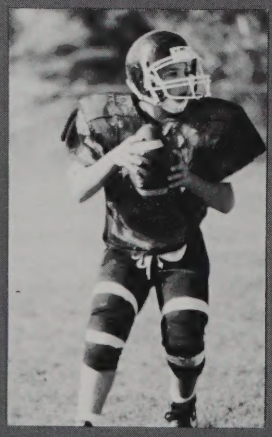
"Our defense played well, we allowed only fourteen points all season."

-Roy Rosebrooks



The 1993 JV Football team, coached by Coach O'Brien and Coach Lempicki, had a record of 3-1. The captains were Roy Rosebrooks, Tom Mita and Larry Lyons. We lost the first game of the season, but we finished by winning the last three. This included a 26-0 shutout of previously undefeated Northbridge. Our offense, although inexperienced, performed well and was anchored by our workhorse running back, Pat Barber. Our defense allowed only 14 points all season. In spite of having very little playing time, our team had a great season.

—Roy Rosebrooks and Tom Mita

The Freshman team was made up of 50 players when the season began. We found that our inexperience would be our biggest problem. The highlight of the season was when six players suited up for the Thanksgiving Day game.

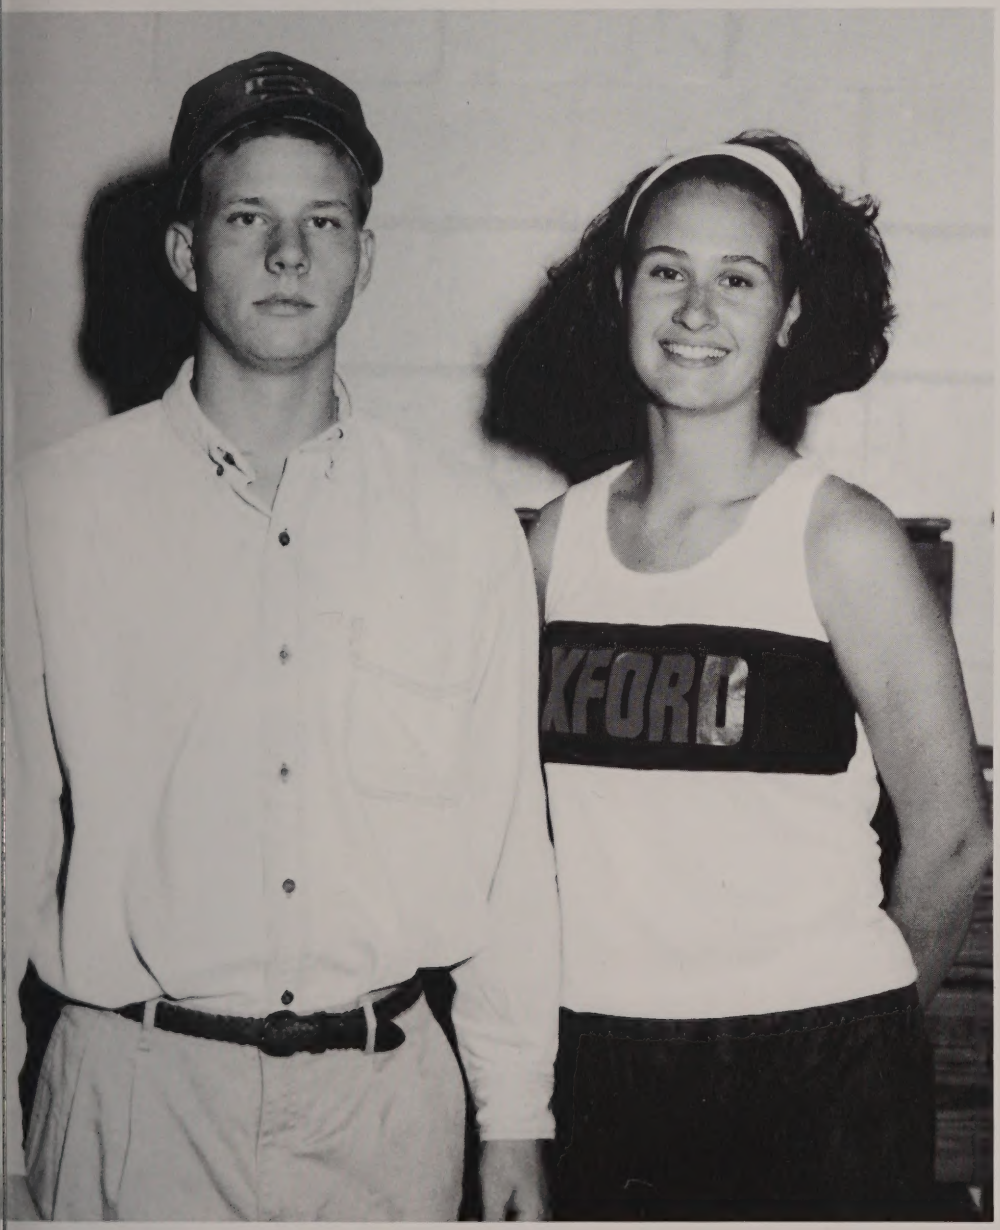
Winged Feet...



The 1993 Girls' Cross Country team had a growth season. The team grew with both members and performances. Some new faces were Jen and Jess Dubsky, Holly Tessier, Angela Buffone, Megan Heath and Megan Gomes. Amanda Shattuck, last year's top runner, was out with an injury, but will return next year. Also, Lynn Casagranda, Erin Miller, Jen and Liz Conway, Sarah Goodrich, Erin Schur, Mariah Hill and Jennie Paradzay added contributions. The season was successful with many individual goals reached and additions to the overall top ten course finishers. Next year's team should be even more successful and we wish them the best of luck. We'd also like to thank coaches Josh Goodrich and Maria Pierozzi for their dedication.

Flying Forward...

The 1993 Boys' Cross Country season has been covered with highs and lows of competitive racing. With a fleet of strong newcomers and strong leadership, we hoped to keep the winning ways of earlier seasons. The captains, Norman Paille and Aaron Robinson led the team with a willingness to win. Along with Coach Pierrozzi, Josh Goodrich answered the call to help coach the OHS teams. As the weeks passed, the meets were cluttered with personal records for most of the athletes. It was not uncommon to hear of triumph from the runners as soon as they passed the finish line. The team ended the season with a strong finish in the SWCL meet. Although the team did not do as well as they wished, a strong base was created for future success.

Heads Up...

Inspired by the leadership of Coach Cathy Zarycki, this year's season was a great success. The unselfish attitude of this team is the attitude that makes champions. This bunch of girls were hard workers and were determined to triumph. It was an honor to be a captain of a team where everyone made my job so easy. Thank you for such a great season.

With our record of 11-5-2, we made it to the district playoffs. This year we moved up to Division I Districts. Our unfortunate loss to Shepard Hill in the first round (4-1) was upsetting to the graduating Seniors who faced their last game. Nonetheless, we were proud of our successful season.

Captains Amy Fields, Denise Wray, Jodi Zarycki, and Sarah Mazeika would like to thank Coach Zarycki for pushing us so hard. Without this our team would not have been as great as it was.

I would like to wish the team the best of luck in the future. With the upcoming players, the team will grow stronger.

Kick up Your Heels...

The 1993 Varsity Boys' Soccer team did extremely well. Our record was 14-3-3. We were led by Senior Captains Paul Cadieux, Kevin Kovaleski, Danny Fredette, and Brian Willar. Other Seniors who made a great contribution were Nate Greenlees, Jon Briggs, Kevin Berube, and Joe Dickman.

We made it to the District semifinals by beating Bay Path (4-0). The scoring was distributed throughout the entire team, but leading scorers were Kevin Kovaleski, Nate Greenlees, and freshman Scott Wray. From the beginning of the season until the end, the team came a long way and the future looks promising for the Pirates. The Seniors would like to thank Coach Boucher for an excellent season.

The JV Girls' Soccer team entered their season not knowing what to expect. With a new coach and only six players returning from last year's team, we knew that we had to work hard and never give up. Under the coaching of Tara Canty, we were able to achieve this goal. Although our season was not a successful one, 1-12-2, we played our best and never got discouraged. Toward the goal...

This year the JV soccer team had a good team. We were young, yet we fulfilled our expectations as a winning team. Coach Rudman did an excellent job leading the team. Among the other leaders were Jarod Moiles, Tim LaBay, and our goalie, Adam Faneuff. Faneuff played every game and helped to give us a winning record. The team had a lot of freshmen and eighth graders. The future of Oxford soccer is looking bright with stars such as Trever Zarycki, Phil Greenlees, Ken Mead, Adam Faneuff, Billy Murphy, Ben Miller and other growing boys.

Pushing Forward

Emmy LeBlanc, Sarah Braley, and Nicole Stone were the tri-captains of the 7-10-1, 1993 varsity field hockey team. Jessica Stone and Lindsay Green were also contributing seniors. Shayna Mandella, Lian Adamiak, and Julie Murray were among the leading scorers. The team also consisted of five other juniors and four other sophomores. Although we were a young team, we grew together and managed to bring up our record in the middle of the season. The seniors would like to wish next year's team the best of luck.

JV Field Hockey went very well this year. Our record was seven losses, six ties, and one win. Barbie Bell, our coach, taught us and pushed us to try as hard as we could. Even though we only won one game, that meant a lot to the team. We were very thankful that we were able to win at least one game. The game was against Northbridge and the score was one to nothing. Our goal was scored by Kylie Nobert. During this year, the first for some of us, we learned skills that will help the team to improve in the future. Personally, I feel that when you take our experience into account, we did pretty well.

Cheer Up!

The 1993 Fall cheerleaders brought back a lot of old faces. Captained by Shannon Hurley and co-captained by Courtney Simao and Melissa Erickson, we had much potential. The homecoming rally turned out to be an outstanding show. For the Thanksgiving Day rally we came up with the theme "Slam" and put together a skit and dance. Our squad put in outstanding effort, and the result was an improved and talented group. — Shannon Hurley

With Barbara Lempicki as the cheerleading coach, Shannon Hurley as captain, and Kirsten Shattuck and Becky Squire as co-captains, the cheerleading squad has experienced a hard working basketball season. A few of the cheerleaders were new, but we've had success with not only a halftime cheer, but a dance as well. — Kirsten Shattuck

HOOPIN' IT UP!

This season started off with a trip to New Jersey for the first annual "Clash of Champions" tournament. This tournament was great experience for our team and for the season to come.

The 1993-94 team was captained by the three seniors: Erin Miller, Emmy LeBlanc, and Holly Tessier. Each member of the team worked hard to contribute their very best. The Lady Pirates qualified for Districts and hopefully will be most successful.

We hope our victorious tradition will be kept alive for years to come and we wish future teams the best of luck.

The J.V. Girl's Basketball team worked very hard this season. The girls were dedicated, hard working, and they always gave one hundred percent effort at practice and during games. Although we didn't have a successful season, we never got discouraged. We believe that by working hard and long together, we will improve in the future. We would like to thank Coach Perozzi for all the time and effort that she has put into helping us. We would just like to say "Good Luck!" to those who are returning next year.

Shoot for the Sky...

Although we finished the season with only a few wins, we grew as a team. The 1994 varsity team was led by co-captains Bryan Phillips and Paul Sliwoski in exciting games such as the tough loss to undefeated David Prouty in overtime and the impressive victory over a league power, Grafton. The team also had some major contributions from senior Brian Willar and juniors Matt Cyr and Chuck Cronin. Special thanks to Pete "Pistol" Brunner for his enthusiasm and wit from the pine.

Up to the Hoop...

Despite our record we had a successful season. We had a group of guys who tried as hard as they could everyday. We had a lot of individual talent, but we lacked chemistry. Led by co-captains Trever Zaricki, Scott Wray, and Mark Walker, we compiled an interesting season.

Next season's team will be a lot different. We will probably lose over ten players including all of the starters. With the players we will have left, I know next season's team will be more successful.

Ads

Each year we leave the best for last . . . the Ads! Without the support from businesses, this yearbook would have to be sold at outrageous prices. Creativity costs money. Seniors visit these businesses and give them the opportunity to advertise. We would like to thank the Seniors and the businesses for their support! Another part is the parent farewells. These are special sentiments to members of the graduating class. Relatives and friends can buy space to create their own message. Thanks to all of you also.

January 24, 1994

To whom it may concern (that's everyone),

In the midst of a winter storm, with no electricity (we want pity), we dedicated yearbook editors write our last piece by candlelight. Our devotion is ever even when we are stranded without modern conveniences (like a computer) in little ol' North Oxford.

Anyways . . . if you happened to notice the small "We Out" on the collage we'd like to explain its significance. It not only symbolizes the graduation of th of '94 but also that we (Laura & Amy) are out of our minds. We are two picas short of a ruler and two pages short of a book, bet you can't guess which t missing!

On a more serious note — we take great pride in this phenomenal creation. We know how much you appreciate us even though you complain when we've your name wrong. You will never know how much this book is a part of us because we are a part of each other. Together we have laid out our ideas f judgement . . . please be gentle with your criticism. We have bravely given you a look at us from the inside.

Up, Up & Away has become a standard in our lives. Everyday we realize there will be challenges (deadlines) to face and we meet them head on. We are forward, bettering ourselves with each step. We hope that you would do the same and take more from this book than simply memories. We would like to th following people —

1. All of our teachers for putting up with our missed classes.
2. The janitors for holding the doors so that we could walk to P&D (which was closed) for supper.
3. Mrs. Lilley for knowing everything and giving us money for snacks.
4. Mr. Bacon for giving in to us when we whined about the dedication & other things.
5. Amy Fields, Josh Brotherton, Kristin Rider, Bryan Phillips, Kevin Kovaleski, Sam Gervickas, Mr. Hackenson, Mrs. Racicot (in the office) & Mrs. Briody for pr transportation to us.
6. Federal Express for Next Day Delivery to the plant.
7. Casson Foster for all our pictures (we would have had trouble w/o them & sometimes had trouble with them) & film, & the cute photographers they sent.
8. Our family & friends for their love even when they forgot who we were because we were locked in the artroom for days at a time.
9. Kevin Berube (the incredibly spectacular, over-worked finance editor) and other seniors for selling ads even though you wanted gas $$$ (get real! we're p
10. Our wonderful staff b/c next to you we look even more wonderful. We really do love you & couldn't have done this w/o you! (Good Luck to next year's Kristin & Katie, since you have your work cut out for you if you think you can top us!)
11. To everyone else in the entire world who was even remotely connected to us (this way no one can say we forgot them!)

Love Always,
